Class Description:

Discover the hottest trends with short hairstyles and color effects, and become the expert your clients are looking for! Short hairstyles are increasingly popular among women, offering speed and versatility when it comes to styling. In our training, we emphasize the importance of morphology and hair texture to create cuts that are tailored to each client. We will delve into the details of the "undercut" technique, exploring its various uses to control volume and create harmonious shapes that enhance your clients' features. Bold cuts and innovative color effects will no longer hold any secrets for you.
