

GEHWOL®

Everything for the well-being of feet

Ashley Durbano (English Instructor)

Ashley Durbano is a National Training Director for Continental Cosmetics. She has spent the last few years traveling the country training estheticians, by sharing her knowledge and love and passion for the beauty industry all while helping to grow the education department of the company. Ashley has been in the beauty industry for over 15 years. Her career has taken her all over the country and into the USA working as an esthetician and makeup artist, as well as training, teaching, educating, opening spas and franchises.

Alex Ayotte (French Instructor)

Alex is a bilingual account manager and trainer for continental cosmetics. She has been in the aesthetic field for the last 15 years. Alex's career in the industry started working in a prestigious hotel spa learning the in's and outs of the industry. Her roll there quickly rose as did her skills and care for her clients. She moved on to opening her own business and educating before landing her roll at continental. Alex's passion is customer service and education. She excels at helping to set up and open new spas, making sure her customers have all the right tools and products and education to be as successful as they can be.

Course Description:

Feet are the basis of how we get around and the care of maintaining healthy feet as we age is especially important. Gehwol has the answer to all your fee related needs. The 150-year-old company has been on the forefront of foot care since before the turn of the century. This German brand has had it right since day one and still creates and manufactures there first ever created foot cream. In this class you will learn the background of Gehwol where and how they started, along with all they have to offer. From professional products to home care, to foot pads and tools. Gehwol is the one stop shop to the well-being of healthy feet.
